Edgar Simonsen Appointed to Newly Created Post Of Village Superintendent; David Miller to Serve As Engineer When Needed on All Local Projects

Will Relieve Trustee Work Maplethorpe, Ehnert Will Remain on Jobs in Same Capacity

In an attempt to keep pace with the needs of the growing village, the Antioch Board of Trustees has appointed a full time superintendent of public works, and an engineer as needed.

Edgar Simonsen, Antioch fire chief, and a former village trustee, was named to the position of superintendent and David Miller of Waukegan as appointed engineer.

Supt. Simonsen, who will assume his new duties on July 1, will have charge of all village administration except the police department. This will include street and alley maintenance, lighting, sewer and water. He will have his office in the pump building on Broadway.

Miller will have his office in Waukegan, but will be on call at any or all times.

Creation of the two offices resulted from the growth of the village and the inability of the trustees to serve in an administrative capacity, both for lack of time and because the nature of their office calls for legislative rather than administrative duties.

The move is in the direction of a village manager which is the trend both at Grayslake and McHenry. Deerfield has a village manager.

Charles Maplethorpe, superintendent of sewer and water will continue to manage these departments, and Emil Ehnert will continue in the street department.

The Village Board created the office by ordinance and made the appointments at the same time last Thursday night when Mayor Cunningham was able to get a quorum for a special meeting.

Engineer Miller has at various times done engineering for the village. He is an engineer for the Great Lakes Naval Training Center and has much experience. He has agreed not only to provide services for sewer and water improvements, but street improvements as well, and will handle the motor fuel tax requests with the State Highway Department, formerly handled by another firm.

Four bids on the supplying of a squad car for the police department were opened and referred to the police committee headed by Herman Holbek. There was no bidding on the proposal to rent a car. The bids submitted were on the Ford, Mercury, Chevrolet, Oldsmobile, and Pontiac. The decision on the purchase will be announced at the next regular meeting.

Born in Chicago on June 25, 1900, he was nearly 58 years old at the time of his death.

Mr. Krueger engaged in business here in Antioch for several years with an office on Lake street. He returned to Chicago and then went to Florida to live.

The funeral service will be held at the Tews Chapel, 2434 E. 79th st., Chicago at 2 p. m. tomorrow (Friday) with burial in Evergreen cemetery. Friends may call this evening.

Federal Power Com. Approves More Pipeline For Northern Ill. Gas Co.

The possibility for Northern Illinois Gas Company to authorize more house heating permits some time this fall moved a step closer last Friday. At that time, the Federal Power Commission approved 490 miles of additional pipeline between Fritch, Texas, and Joliet, Illinois, to be constructed by Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America. This will provide an additional 185 million cubic feet of gas daily to the Chicago area. Northern Illinois Gas Company's share of this new supply will be about 60 million cubic feet daily, an increase of almost 20 per cent to its present pipeline supply.

Lowly Cubs Snap Sox Winning Streak In 3 to 2 Thriller

Sox pitchers Bob Carter and Ray Marr held opposition to only six hits and no runs in three games in Little League play. Then along came the Cubs, occupying the cellar at the time, and beat the Sox 3 to 2 in a very thrilling game last Thursday night.

Doug Lang pitching a fine game being the winning pitcher, allowing only two hits and striking out thirteen batters.

The last inning was the highlight of the game. Doug Lang filled the bases with no outs, struck out the next batter, forced the next man at home plate, and then struck out the last man to win the game.

The loss dropped the Sox into a tie with Tigers for first place.

On Friday the Giants beat the Yanks 8 to 3 and Tuesday the Dodgers beat the Yanks 15 to 3, to drop the Yanks to the cellar without a win to date. Harland Mays has continued to play outstanding ball for the Yanks.

The standings as of June 25:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Sox	3	1	.750
Tigers	3	1	.750
Giants	2	1	.667
Dodgers	2	2	.500
Cubs	1	2	.333
Yanks	0	4	.000

Games this week are:

Thursday, June 26—Giants vs. Cubs.

Friday, June 27—Sox vs. Dodgers.

Tuesday, July 1—Tigers vs. Giants. Little League games will be sold by the players this coming month to help raise funds for the improvement of the park. Buy one from the Little League boy in your neighborhood and help the Antioch Little League continue to improve.

Business Expansion Sought in Rezoning; Unopposed at Hearing

There were no objectors Tuesday at the hearing before the Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals here on applications of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Schmitz and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Waldweiler for R-1 reclassifications to permit commercial expansion.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmitz plan to construct a building of cement block and brick with a 90-foot frontage on Rte. 173 opposite the Four Aces. The building will house a doctor or dentist's office, a clothing store, and a third business, possibly a beauty shop.

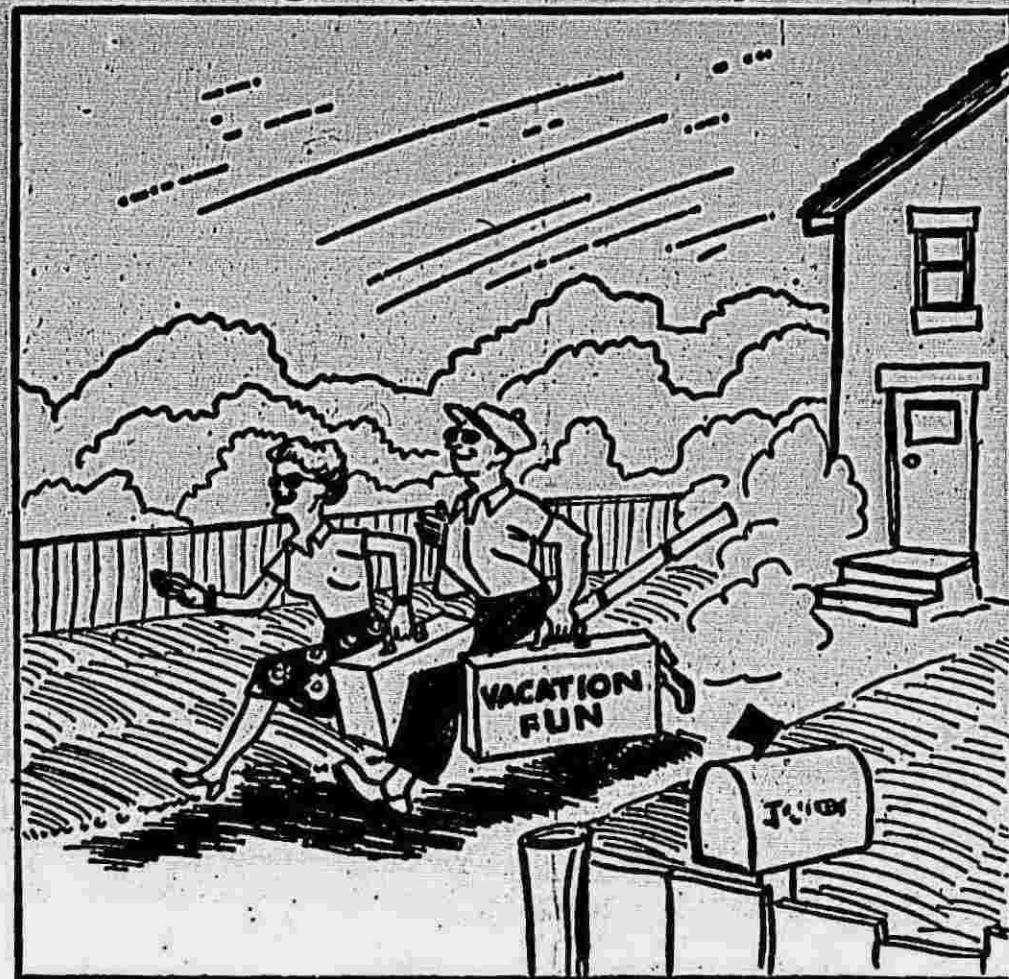

Two of the lots are zoned for R-4 residential.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldweiler of Grass Lake road plan to expand a boat and motor repair business as well as provide boat storage on two lots with 100-foot frontage on Grass Lake road. Their property now zoned for R-4 residential, is three miles west of Rte. 59. Atty Ted Larson, Antioch, represented the Waldweilers.

The Zoning Board will make its recommendations to the Board of Supervisors for action on July 9.

...Getting Away From The Daily Grind

Mrs. Edith Thompson, Hickory Corners, Dies, News Correspondent

Mrs. Edith Thompson, correspondent for the Antioch News at Hickory Corners (Rtes. 173 and 45) died at 10:45 a. m. Monday at Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan, where she was taken early that morning by the Antioch Rescue squad after she had suffered a stroke.

Mrs. Thompson was born July 6, 1894 in Kankakee, Ill., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pickles. She was but four years of age when the family moved to Hickory Corners and she had lived in the same house at the northeast corner of the highway intersection ever since.

For a number of years one portion of the house was used as a postoffice. A Methodist church which she attended stood diagonally opposite the Pickles residence west of the corner. Her school was just north of the intersection.

The marriage of Edith Pickles to William D. Thompson took place on February 28, 1920. Surviving besides the husband is the daughter, Helen Thompson, of the home.

Two sisters preceded her in death. They were Mrs. Effie Hunter who died March 2, 1957, and Mrs. Helen Tillotson, who died March 5 of this year.

The funeral service was held at 2 p. m. today at the Strang Funeral home with the Rev. Gilbert Howe of Kenosha, Wis., officiating. Burial was in Millburn cemetery.

Antioch Mound Ace To Pitch For Girls In Game at Kenosha

KENOSHA, Wis.—The All American Girls Baseball club, which tours the country playing topnotch semi-pro men's teams on an equal basis, visits Simmons Field here Sunday, June 29, for a game with the Kenosha Chiefs, the city's top amateur club.

A pre-game "pepperball" show will be put on by the girls, starting at 7:30 p. m. The game begins at 8 o'clock.

In last year's game, which attracted the largest crowd of the season for the Chiefs, the girls were shaded 3-2. And the Chiefs were going "all out" to win.

The only advantage the girls receive is a switch in pitchers and catchers. The men's battery joins the girls' lineup and vice versa.

Several of the girls who starred in the now defunct All-American Girls Baseball League during World War II years are in the lineup which appears here Sunday night.

They include Jean Smith, Maxine Kline, Joan Berger and pitching star Dolores Lee (who'll pitch for the Chiefs). Bill Allington manages the barnstorming club.

Tom Barnsdollar, former Kenosha High School star, and Jack Pregener, the big Antioch, Ill., ace, are scheduled to pitch for the girls against their Chiefs teammates.

New Race on Sunday
The Chain O' Lakes Boat Club race scheduled for June 22 at the Riverside hotel was cancelled because of a Coast Guard ruling.

A race has been scheduled for June 29 at the Waltonian hotel on Fox Lake. The race will start at 1 p. m.

The next meeting of the club will be held at 9 p. m. Saturday, July 5.

Extinguish Grass Fire
The Antioch fire department was called at 1:20 p. m. Sunday to extinguish a grass fire at Lake and Grapevine avenues in the Channel Lake Bluffs subdivision.

Plan Subdivision Shopping Center East of Antioch

Glenn W. Traer Would Sell 570 Acres to Chicago Firm If Rezoned

Should the Lake County Board of Supervisors approve, approximately 570 acres of land owned by Glenn W. Traer between Rte. 173 and Kelly road east of Rte. 45 will be sold to Arthur T. McIntosh & Co., Chicago, for suburban development and a shopping center.

Traer and the Chicago real estate firm will seek a hearing before the Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals on the rezoning of all but 20 acres from farming to R-3 residential, which calls for half acre, or 20,000 square foot lots.

The 20 acres now zoned for farming lying immediately southwest of Rte. 173's intersection with the Newport-Antioch Township line, would be zoned for business to permit the large shopping center.

Observers foresee this as a move to provide suburban homes for those who would use the new toll road in commuting to Chicago. The land Traer would sell is an irregularly shaped but contiguous tract stretching southward from Rte. 173 through Mill Creek territory to Kelly road, and would have access to the toll road either at the state line or Grand avenue.

The territory is in an area which has no nearby consolidated grade school, but is served in a very small (one section) part by Antioch Township High School, and Warren Township High School.

The date for the zoning hearing has not been set.

Traer said that he has not disposed of all of his land holdings. He lives northwest of Grunee and has not sold that or the Millburn Farms, Inc., where peat is mined. The McIntosh firm subdivided Loch Lomond at Mundelein and other subdivisions near Barrington.

Annual Firemen's Dance Saturday Night Expected to Attract a Large Attendance

The Antioch fire station will be a popular place Saturday night.

It is the occasion of the annual firemen's dance and according to the ticket sales there will be a big attendance. The event always has been popular.

Music will be supplied by King Jaros' orchestra which was a big hit last year. Dancing will be both inside and outside the building, the latter depending on the weather. The Rescue Squad area will be used for dispensing refreshments.

The band will start playing at 9 p. m. and will play Home Sweet Home at 1 a. m.

Profit from the dance is used to finance equipment for the department. The firemen recently agreed to pay half the cost of the new alarm radios placed in the homes of 25 members to speed up the calls. The firemen themselves are on a voluntary basis and it was because of the appreciation of their free services that residents of the Antioch area bought the dance tickets freely.

Ray Toft heads the committee in charge of the event. Members of his committee are: Leo Keisler, John Tegelman, Laurel Van Patten, Frank Feiler, William Vos, and Irving Walsh.

Toft announced that the orchestra is provided through the compliments of the Norshore Resort which Jaros operates.

Reichard Family In Tragic Accident

Two Petite Lake infants were killed and four other persons were injured in a two car crash Wednesday afternoon at Route 58 and Meacham Road, four miles south of Palatine.

Killed were Melvin, 2½ and Ronald four months old, children of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin P. Reichard, Resthaven Terrace, Petite Lake.

Taken to Sherman hospital, Elgin, in serious condition were Mr. and Mrs. Reichard and their son, Paul, 15. Paul had a fractured left arm at the shoulder, broken ribs and other internal injuries not yet determined.

Mr. Reichard has a broken collar bone and other internal injuries. Mrs. Reichard has a broken pelvis and other internal injuries not yet determined.

The Reichard family was on the way from Chicago to their home to celebrate Mrs. Reichard's 41st birthday anniversary.

Reichard drove his car out of Meacham road onto Route 58 in front of the car driven by James Peltz of Freeport, Ill., who also was hospitalized for minor injuries.

The first person to reach the scene of the accident was William Landwer, Oak Park, who has a summer cottage next door to the Reichard family. The Reichards have made their home at Petite Lake for the past 4½ years. Mr. Reichard is an Electrical Contractor in Chicago. Their son, Paul is a freshman at Antioch Township High school.

Eight Boy Scouts and their scoutmaster from Troop 91 went on a survival campout last Saturday. A survival campout is one in which no food or drink is taken along. The boys expected to find their own food.

There were no ripe berries to be found but the boys caught enough fish for a good meal. For a vegetable they ate cossack asparagus, more commonly known as cattail.

They returned home Sunday a little tired and hungry, but proud of their success. Those who made the trip were Wayne Bentel, William Carrick, Lee LaFlamme, Ron Ipsen, Kenneth White, Eddie Miller, Walter Henning, and Robert Kolar.

Bluebird Hearing July 15

Village to Take No Stand on Bus Line Squabble Unless Necessary

Hearing on the Soo Line petition to abandon two passenger trains daily and make Antioch, Lake Villa and Grayslake a non-stop for the two remaining trains—one each way—daily has been set for July 10 before the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Notice of the hearing was received by Village Atty. Edward C. Jacobs and Mayor Murrill Cunningham this week.

Action was started at once to oppose the move both by the village and the Chamber of Commerce.

Bernard Osmond, village trustee, and president of the Chamber of Commerce, announced that Atty. Jacobs, who will represent the village, will also represent the Chamber of Commerce at the hearing. He also announced that Howard Gaston will head the chamber's committee on transportation at the hearing in re-enforcing the protest.

Atty. Jacobs said that Trevor residents have asked to join Antioch in protesting the removal of the trains because a number of residents there use the train to commute to Chicago. They offered to get up a petition in opposition.

The Soo Line is the only year-around public transportation for Antioch and Lake Villa. As the community grows there no doubt will be more need for it even though there is more and more use of the automobile.

Atty Jacobs also received word that the petition of the Bluebird Coach Line to serve this area during the summer season for Chicago commuters will be held before the Illinois Commerce commission on July 15.

"We will merely act as interested spectators," said Atty. Jacobs, who is aware that the American Coach Line now serving the community is fighting to retain the franchise.

Complaint has been filed against the American Coach Co., charging that some of its equipment is unsafe. There were never any complaints locally.

A.T.H.S. Resignations Include L. Chenette, And Donald Chiappetta

Chiappetta's plans are not completely determined. He has been on the high school staff since 1951.

Miss Ruth Nicholson has been employed to teach English and to serve as a dramatic coach. Miss Nicholson is a recent graduate of Elmhurst College.

Bridges of Friendship

Governments deal with governments at the high levels of state. But it takes more than this to bring about understanding and friendship between nations. The ideal would be for every citizen of every land to travel widely, and to meet his equivalent abroad face to face. Old and groundless suspicion and distrust, nurtured in the dangerously fertile soil of ignorance, would vanish. The goal of lasting world peace would surely be in sight.

The late Senator Arthur Vandenberg, who made an outstanding record as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in days of grave international troubles, once said that his hobby was foreign travel. He went abroad, he added, not for fun but for self improvement. Each year he visited a different country for two months—talking, studying, observing. And the result was an invaluable understanding of the needs, problems, aspirations and characters of other peoples.

Today millions of Americans, and legions of people elsewhere, can pursue a hobby similar to that of Senator Vandenberg. The airplane has made that possible. For the first time, people of average means with two or three weeks annual vacation, can spend practically all of that time in foreign lands. They can gain an insight into the culture, traditions and beliefs of others. They can exchange thoughts and resolve differences—and help build the bridges of friendship that this old world so sorely needs if civilization is to survive.

"Grass Roots Opinion"

LEESBURG, FLA., DAILY COMMERCIAL: "This weekend you may hop into the car to take the family for an early spin in the country, or get out into the garden while your wife does spring cleaning, or get the screens in shape. While you're doing that, 200,000 individuals will have been added to the population of the world. For the current rate of increase—births over deaths—is somewhat more than 100,000 a day. . . It's far past the time when we should be thinking soberly and continuously—and demanding that our statesmen do the same—about problems this growth brings in its train."

McCOMB, OHIO, HANCOCK COUNTY HERALD: "Drug stores across the country which have served their communities long enough to fill a million prescriptions are receiving some deserved recognition. They are being given plaques attesting this by Lederle Laboratories. One went the other day to a Savannah, Georgia, pharmacy which filled prescriptions for General Robert E. Lee and which has preserved one of them as a cherished relic of the Confederate hero."

SULLIVAN, ILL., MOULTRIE COUNTY NEWS: "How widespread is the abuse of unemployment compensation claims? The percentage of unjustified claims that are paid may be small, but when they are flagrant, they leave a sour taste in the mouths of all employers. 'Unemployment' compensation should not be allotted to workers who 'quit to go fishing'."

ELROY, ARIZONA, ENTERPRISE: "Hard-to-understand government actions frequently result in the U. S. taking sideswipes at the very spirit of private enterprise which it so piously fosters in voice and print. 'Typical is a little publicized but significant ruling by the Internal Revenue which disallows certain advertising expenditures made by a privately-managed public utility company, a ruling vigorously protested and now under test in the courts in the form of a suit filed by an affected company. The outcome of the case can indeed be far-reaching, and, in the opinion of many, result in a definite curb on a basic freedom, freedom of speech."

ELLICOTTVILLE, N. Y., POST: "Anger is a wind which blows out the lamp of intelligence."

Into Thin Air

The American motorist still drives on a fuel which has risen only 6 per cent in price since 1925, where other every-day commodities have soared by well over 200 per cent in that same period of time.

How is this possible? One big reason is found in scientific progress. An interesting example of this lies in evaporation control.

Crude oil and gasoline stored above ground evaporate. The loss is absolute—fuel literally goes away into thin air. So oil scientists have long studied and applied various ways and means to curb evaporation. In one method, hollow plastic spheres can be floated on the surface of the stored fuel, forming a floating roof which cuts crude evaporation by as much as 95 per cent in some cases. Another method, pressure vacuum vents are used as evaporation-reducing installed and in one instance these have saved a daily loss by evaporation of 10,000 gallons of raw gasoline, butane and propane.

This simply illustrates the fact that research, science and experimentation are among the oil industry's most vital tools. They have produced outstanding achievements in a long list of fields—in better gasoline and lubricants; in techniques for getting more oil and gas out of wells and thus conserving this vital mechanism. In a third, central gathering tanks are resource; in making possible the creation of valuable new articles through the miracle called petrochemistry. And last, but certainly not least from the consumer point of view, they have made it possible to hold prices far below what would have been the case otherwise.

Holy Cow!

The first domestic livestock in what is now the U.S.A., landed in Florida in 1521. The first American meat packer was the founder of Plymouth, Mass. Yet after all these years the meat industry and its intricate interplay of prices continue to be a mystery.

That observation was made by Robert West Howard, roving editor of the American Meat Institute, in an unusual talk before a YWCA Rural-Urban Workshop. And why should this mystery exist? Here's his answer: "Essentially, I presume, because no consumer really gives a tunket. I feel like a steak. All right, let's go downtown and have a good one. We'll really put on the dog and take in a play, too. Seven dollars for the restaurant steak; three dollars for a Caesar salad; $1.50 tip for the waiter; 50 cents for the cigarette girl; $3 for cabs; $8 for good orchestra seats; $12 for nightcaps and a floor show at The Blue Bubble. . . Thirty-five bucks. Holy cow, how the price of meat has gone up! Who's getting it?"

Comparatively few consumers may operate on so expensive a scale as this. But the things people don't know about the meat industry would fill a book. For instance, Mr. Howard points out, it takes 18 months to grow a 1,000 pound steer. During that time the animals may change owners several times and travel thousands of miles. After dressing out and trimming, less than half of the weight, 465 pounds—becomes retail cuts in the butcher's cabinets. And of this 465 pounds, a mere 35 pounds represents those highly regarded steaks. That's why a steak is so expensive—while other cuts, equally nutritious and mighty toothsome when properly prepared, cost much less.

Mr. Howard thinks it's high time we take the mystery out of meat, through education and the dissemination of the facts. He's really got something there.

Library News

In the realm of books, as in music, there are creations that are beloved by many generations of readers. For want of a better word, they are called classics. The books described below are all very different but they are all classics and all have been purchased for the Antioch Township Library as memorial books.

Ninety years ago, Louisa May Alcott wrote "Little Women." Since then, girls all over the world have read about the March family and loved restless Jo, dainty Meg, self-centered Amy, and gentle Beth. "Little Women" was given to the library in memory of Nancy Hollimon.

"The World of Pooh" is a world of enchantment for it contains "Winnie-The-Pooh" and "The House at Pooh Corner." The adventures of Christopher Robin and the whimsy of Pooh have enriched many children's lives and we all owe a debt to A. A. Milne for his classic creation. "The World of Pooh" was given to the library in memory of C. E. Hennings.

Alexandre Dumas' "Count of Monte Cristo" is an adventure story supreme. The escape of Dantes from prison, the discovery of the hidden grotto, and his revenge for the injustice of his imprisonment have fired the imagination of young and old for over a century. "The Count of Monte Cristo" is a memorial book for Mrs. Raymond Jones.

Motorists Warned By W. H. Morris of The Illinois State Police

Springfield, June 26, 1958 (Special)

William H. Morris, Superintendent of the Illinois State Highway Police today issued a warning to motorists saying: "Unless driving practices on our highways improve immediately, more drastic enforcement measures can be expected."

"Although fewer fatal accidents were reported on the highways of the State than ever before experienced during a holiday period," Morris said, "it is a sad commentary on the driving ability of Illinois motorists to record 22 fatalities Statewide during the past Memorial Day weekend."

"We feel sure," Morris added, "that the presence of our men on patrol drastically reduced the number of deaths on the highways, but more stringent controls must be exercised if we are to effect a permanent downturn in accidents."

"Far too many persons pay no attention to our warnings or extra patrol efforts to save lives," the Superintendent said, "and, danger lurks on every stretch of road during this current summer season. A record number of cars are on the road and the dangers of accidents multiply unless motorists exercise the utmost caution and courtesy when driving."

In concluding his warning, Morris said, "518 persons died during the three summer months last year, and that was a reduction over the previous year! We, of the State Highway Police, intend to do our utmost to continue to show a reduction in traffic fatalities month by month and will employ every possible means to save lives."

"Strict enforcement of all traffic laws will be the order of the day and we sincerely urge the motorist to cooperate in every way to make our highways safe."

Patients Relive Past In Brain Operations

Deep inside the brain runs a strange "thread of time," recording permanently every sight and sound ever perceived. Touch this thread with an electrode, and it will play back like a motion picture projector. The patient will literally relive experiences buried in the past.

This is the discovery of Dr. Wilder Penfield, a world-famous neurosurgeon, described in the July Reader's Digest. Dr. Penfield, the founder of Montreal Neurological Institute, was probing in the brain of a middle-aged housewife, looking for areas damaged by epilepsy.

Suddenly the woman shouted in surprise. She seemed to be having her baby again. In detail, she described the long-forgotten experience.

The same thing happened again: a Texas businessman relived part of a childhood baseball game; an Indiana secretary went back to some

NEW WORLD'S SPEED RECORD FOR OUTBOARDS

SEATTLE, WASH. — Skimming across the one-kilometer course on Lake Washington here, a specially designed boat powered by a production 60-horsepower Mercury set a new world's speed record for outboards of 107.8 miles per hour. This is the highest speed ever achieved by an outboard-powered boat, and brought the world mark to the United States for the first time since 1937.

Seattle's Hugh Entrop was at the wheel of the highly streamlined craft as it captured the Union of International Motorboating (UIM) Class X Outboard Hydro world mark. Entrop became the first American ever to exceed 100 miles per hour in an outboard. He also broke the old record of 100.3 miles per hour, set in 1956 by Italian Massimo Leto Di Priolo on Idroscalo Lake outside of Milan, Italy. Di Priolo's boat, however, was powered by a specially super-charged 160-horsepower 4-cylinder 4-cycle Leso engine in comparison with Entrop's 59.6 cubic inch 60-horsepower 6-cylinder Mercury. Fastest American time before Entrop was 78.121 miles per hour by Clint Ferguson of Boston in 1938.

Mercury's Mark 75H powered a craft Entrop built from an early design of Ted Jones. It is the competition version of the six-cylinder-in-line outboard which was introduced just two years ago by the Klekhaefer corporation of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin. Only last December it set a new endurance record when two of the family models each completed a 50,000-mile continuous run in 88 days at an average speed of 30.3 miles per hour as certified by the U.S. Auto Club.

Entrop's record performance culminated six months of effort. The craft went over the water at 109.120 miles per hour on its first run and then came back over the course at a speed of 106.522 for its record average of 107.821. Observed and timed by the American Power Boat Association, the new international record is subject to UIM official certification, the only world sanctioning organization in the marine field.

Commenting on the record, Ted Jones and Mercury president Carl Klekhaefer said that information gained by this engineering project "would aid in future design of conventional recreational craft for the higher cruising speeds which are inevitable in the near future." They stated that the high speed of the craft and engine confirm design solutions to problems that had not been possible to check at lower speeds.

History of Trevor

(By Chick Hunt)

It is safe to say the dedication of Trevor, Wisconsin's new post office May 5, 1956 was one of the gayest ever held in a country town.

To Charles Ade of Silver Lake, Wis., president of the Trevor Social Center and general chairman of the Trevor Post Office Dedication Committee, fell the task of carefully inquiring into local history. For there would be speeches.

Ade performed this duty well, seeking interviews, studying available books, and sending out inquiries to the sources best informed.

With the help of Carrie Cropley, curator of the Kenosha County Historical Society, Kenosha, Ade traced Trevor's history back to the formation in 1843 of School District 7.

Yet when all the host of 1,200 visitors from near and far had gone back to their homes after the day-long dedication, one event proposed for the dedication program remained partially unfulfilled, and one significant question unanswered.

Event No. 2 had called for comments on "the history of the origin of the town and how it got the name of Trevor."

Wise Mrs. Cropley had restricted her response to Ade's inquiries to known facts. This forced her to acknowledge that so far as the museum at Kenosha knew, nobody living was aware of how Trevor got its short, concise and rather English-sounding name.

On April 20, 1956, the curator wrote Ade a letter of considerable length. Included was the following:

"Evidently this (that is Trevor) was a farm community until after the Wisconsin Central Railway (Soo Line) went through sometime in the early or mid 1880's. As near as I can find, the practice of bringing cattle and other stock there from the Chicago yards for fattening led to the development of the village. I seem to have a recollection of reading somewhere that the name came from one of the officials of the old Wisconsin Central Road whom the folks of the community wished to honor."

Then she added: "There was also an early minister who sometimes spoke in some of the churches of Salem township, by the name of Trevor."

It so happens that the theory most widely entertained by Trevor moderns is, that the hamlet was indeed named for a Soo Line official, or even an engineer.

A second letter of inquiry, written by Ade to the railroad's general offices in Minneapolis, however, brought a prompt disclaimer of this theory. For on May 9, 1956—too late for Trevor's postal dedication day—J. W. Lydon, advertising manager of the Soo Line, replied:

"There is nothing in the records to indicate where Trevor got its name, and we are unable to locate anything on it."

Lydon nonetheless contributed a useful fact when, elsewhere in his letter, he informed Ade:

"Construction of the Wisconsin Central began June 15, 1871. By October, trains were operating to Waupaca, and November 15, 1871, the first train rolled into Stevens Point. The line was completed to Ashland in 1877; St. Paul was reached in 1884; Chicago in 1886 and Duluth in 1909. In the latter year the Soo Line took over the Wisconsin Central and it is operated today as the Stevens Point Division of the Soo Line System."

The useful fact was confirmation of the hint in Henry Edwin Brown's land abstract, governing the area of Trevor, that the road came past Trevor in the mid-1880's.

We could carry this discussion further and suggest that each response contained a germ of the real explanation of the origin of Trevor, as did Charlie Oetting's old abstract of Henry Edwin Brown's tract of government-deeded land.

For we know now that this was the case.

In its first article on Trevor history The Antioch News speculated that the investigation it has just completed might in some way add its bit to Trevor records.

This hope has been realized within the past few days. It comes with the uncovering by Mrs. Oetting, long time Trevor resident, of hitherto unknown historical data obtained from what we consider of unquestionable source.

The facts come from a source outside the village—Burlington, Wis., where a former Trevor pioneer resident lives today.

Here then for your convenience is the explanation of the origin of Trevor.

In 1885 or slightly earlier, when the Wisconsin Central (Soo Line) leg through Salem township was first projected, there lived on the

Camp Lake Hotel of Many Years Ago

These folk as was often true of them lived somewhat at odds with their neighbors. The latter at times even slept in their barns for the purpose of guarding their livestock.

When the Soo Line right of way was laid out, it was seen that it would cut directly through the Mormons' 17 acres.

The little colony, which had arrived perhaps from the East or from Nauvoo, Illinois—which before 1848 had been the biggest city in that state (not excepting Chicago)—but afterward was virtually dissolved—picked up and left, settling on new ground "beyond Burlington."

Next, with projection of a livestock feeding point on this part of the Soo Line, there arose need for a station. What was its name to be?

The pioneer Booth family came forward. Understandably, as Lemuel Booth's farm had furnished school land, stood on the main crossroads which pointed both to Antioch and Wilmet, and had until then been the village center, they urged the Booth name.

But the Mormons' leader, well respected despite local differences, was a minister and civic builder named John Trevor.

You know now which name the residents chose.

The departed Mormons were memorialized in that choice.

THE TV MIRACLE

One reader of this column referred to an article we run 'that a TV set has over a thousand parts. "Where in the world can you fit all these parts in such a small space?" she asked.

In her own living room we opened her TV set and showed her a miracle of engineering achievement. Electronic designers have been able to make most of the components, even complex ones, infinitesimally small. That TV set is the most complex instrument that the average person ever encounters. It also gives enjoyment that we wonder how we got along without in previous years.

SOCIETY EVENTS

Evelyn Martin Recent Bride of Bruce Stahmer

A lovely summer wedding took place at 12:30 p. m. June 7 in St. Mary's Catholic church, Riverside, when Miss Evelyn F. Martin became the bride of Bruce Stahmer. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin of Riverside, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stahmer of Antioch.

The Rev. Fr. Lynce officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was a charming picture in her regal wedding gown of white chantilly lace, fashioned on princess lines with empire bodice, long sleeves and sabrina neck line. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel length train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell softly from a crown of pearls and rhinestones. She carried white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Coralie Biddock was matron of honor and Misses Marlene Stahl and Pat Diederich served as bridesmaids. They wore hyacinth taffeta sheath gowns and carried yellow plumeria.

Fred Stahmer, twin brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, Forrest Stahmer, brother of the bridegroom, David Petty and Robert Weber, ushers.

The bridegroom's mother wore an embroidered aqua nylon sheath gown with nylon jacket. Her flowers were white tiger lilies. The bride's mother wore a rose silk sheath gown with jeweled collar, short sleeve matching jacket. Her flowers were white tiger lilies.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the Oak room at St. Mary's church.

The newlyweds spent their honeymoon at Spooner, Wis. They plan to make their home at 233 Main st., Wauconda.

TWELVE IS TOO MANY

An out of state car with a mother and six children drove into JOE & DON'S TEXACO SERVICE, 970 Main Street, Antioch, Illinois the other day. While servicing the motor, I noticed that the Mother was having quite a time keeping the youngsters together. Just before I said goodbye to them, I remarked that next time she should take only half her family.

She looked straight at me and said,

New Lake Villa Post Office Dedicated Sat. In Outdoor Ceremony Attended by 200

An audience of 200 persons heard Rep. Marguerite Stitt Church, of Evanston, declare that the post office is the visible symbol of the United States government and its services in every village as she participated in the dedication of the Lake Villa office Saturday.

Mrs. Church made a special flight to Lake Villa, bringing a flag which flew over the White House on June 11, and which was raised during the ceremony by the Lake Villa Post V. F. W. at the Lake Villa office.

"I have been in Washington 32 years—eight years as your congressman, and I have never known a time when it has been more important to examine what we believe in," said Mrs. Church.

Lists Postmasters

Rep. Church paid her respects to the seven postmasters who have served the Lake Villa community since 1884 when the office was known as Stanwood, and George G. Grice was the first postmaster. In 1884, the village name was changed to Lake Villa. Postmasters since then have been Henry Thatcher, Lincoln W. Rowlings, Harriet I. Miller, Clare D. Sherwood, Harriet Balenger and Joseph Hucker.

Hucker became postmaster in 1935 and has served in that capacity since with the exception of 1942 to 1946 when he was in military service. Mildred Galliger served as acting postmaster then.

Coy R. White, Chicago, field service officer of the Post Office Department gave the main speech.

"The mail service is a reminder of our privilege to write uncensored thoughts," he said. "It is a means of holding scattered families together; an aid to commerce, health and education."

White brought greetings from Postmaster General Arthur E. Sommerfield. He noted that the postal department has more employees than any other department of government except defense, and that it has more vehicles than any other department.

At the conclusion of his talk,

White presented the key to the post office to Postmaster Hucker.

The dedication program opened with organ music by Mrs. Grace Timmersman, after which Hucker introduced Tony Sciaccero, VFW official, as master of ceremonies.

Post 4308 Veterans of Foreign Wars, posted the colors, using the flag that Rep. Church brought.

Ray Colucio represented the Lions Club as a speaker, and was introduced by Sciaccero following the introduction of guests.

The Rev. Gerald B. Robinson, of the Community Methodist Church gave the benediction.

Open house was held after the program with the VFW Auxiliary serving the refreshments.

Visitors were greeted by employees of the office: Irma Jean Amistani and Mildred Hucker, clerks; James L. Armstrong, Henry A. Behrens, Ralph Borecky and Delbert L. Sherwood, carriers.

EARLY DAYS OF ANTIOCH

(By J. M. Horton)

WHEN THE INDIAN WAS HERE
Although the Pottawatomies were the Indian tribe encountered by the first white settlers in our Lake County, a number of other tribes had preceded them, in inhabiting the wilderness of Northern Illinois, as maps of the early French explorers indicate.

Moll's map of 1720 shows the Maskoutens still around the land of "Che-ca-gou" and the Kikapous north of them about where Waukegan is today. D'Anville's map of 1755 shows the Maskoutens on the border line of Cook and Lake Counties. However, due to constant warring between the different tribes, they early disappeared or were absorbed into the others.

When the first French traders arrived in the new country, they found it occupied by a number of tribes, the most numerous of which were the Illinois.

These belonged to the Algonquin confederation, and spreading themselves over the country on both sides of the Illinois River, included five tribes: the Cahokias, Kaskasias, Peorias, Tamaras, and Mitchigamies, the last being the tribe from which Lake Michigan took its name.

They were intensely warlike, being almost constantly in conflict with the Iroquois on the east, the Sacs and the Foxes, Pottawatomies and Kikapous on the north, and the Sioux on the west. They were migratory and depended for subsistence largely upon their summer and winter hunts. They lived in rudely constructed lodges, each accommodating about eight families.

They were always faithful allies of the French, whom they heartily welcomed in 1673. French missionaries labored earnestly among them, notably Fathers Marquette, Allouez and Gravier, who reduced their language to grammatical rules.

In fact, the name Illinois itself, indicates the close relation that existed between the two factions: being derived from the Indian meaning "real" or "superior men," the Indian plural "ek" being changed by the French to "ois."

The city of Chicago was named after their most distinguished chief, Che-cau-gou, a man of unusual intelligence and vigor of character in leading his people, and who in 1725 visited Paris where he was welcomed with the honors accorded a foreign prince.

In their wars with the Foxes, from 1712 to 1719, the Illinois suffered severe losses, their numbers being reduced to but 3,000. Induced by pressure from the ferocious Iroquois they abandoned their villages on the Illinois river and set them up anew in southern Illinois, near the mouth of the river now named Kaskaskia, where it flows into the Mississippi river.

This second Kaskaskia, with its Indian village and French mission-trading post, later developed into the first capital of the Territory and State of Illinois. The state now maintains in this area highly interesting memorials of this period of its history, including that of old Fort Kaskaskia.

The story of the Indian during the years when the white men encroached upon his ancestral lands is interlaced with constantly shifting intrigue, in which the Spanish first, then the French, British and Americans, sought the aid of the Indians and played it against each other in furthering their own ambitions in the new world. Failing that, they suffered at the hands of the red man as an enemy whose leaders such as Tecumseh, Pontiac, and Black Hawk fought a valiant but hopeless struggle to stay the day of doom for their people.

The assassination of Pontiac by a Kaskaskian in 1765 was avenged by the lake tribes in a war of extermination. After taking part with the Miami in a war against the incoming Americans, the Illinois participated in the treaties of Greenville and Vincennes and were gradually removed farther and farther toward the West.

Thus it was that by the time the Illinois Territory was formed, the Indians of the Illinois tribe were being replaced by another tribe, that of the numerous and powerful Pottawatomie from the north.

Next week: The Indians in Lake County.

or so much of this amount as may be necessary, is made from the State general fund to the Illinois Public Aid Commission for general assistance. A witness before the Assembly testified that under present conditions, this amount, when added to the $51 1/2 million appropriated by the 70th General Assembly, will last until mid March, 1959. If this holds true, a further deficiency will be asked for at that time to last out the biennium—until July 1, 1959.

The bill amending the Unemployment Compensation does not automatically extend the benefit period 13 weeks—from 26 to 39. Rather it increases by 50 per cent the eligibility unemployed workers had accumulated by their length of service. The extension to 39 weeks applies only to those persons who had built up the present maximum of 26 weeks eligibility. The next extension, effective July 1, covers persons who exhaust their benefits between December 1, 1957 and March 31, 1959. Here is roughly how the new amendment works:

John Doe accumulated the maximum of 26 weeks of unemployment compensation eligibility before he became unemployed in July, 1957. He started receiving unemployment benefits and exhausted them after November 30, 1957. He is still out of work on July 1, 1958. John Doe would be eligible for another 13 weeks of benefits commencing on July 1, provided he is still unemployed.

Richard Roe had also accumulated 26 weeks of unemployment compensation eligibility before he was laid off in July, 1957. He received unemployment benefits and exhausted them after Nov. 30, 1957. He did not receive any benefits in February, March and April, but went back to his job in May. Under the retroactive provision of the new amendment, he will not receive benefits for February, March and April.

In another example, Harry Jones was laid off in September, 1957, after having accumulated 20 weeks of eligibility. He exhausted his 20 weeks of eligibility in February, 1958, and is still not back on the job on July 1 of this year. Jones would be eligible for another 10 weeks of benefits if he remains out of work for that long after July 1.

U. of I. Food Report

Chicago Retail Food Markets
June 23-28

CHICAGO—Consumers will find many opportunities for values and savings in food costs in produce and grocery departments this week.

Chicago-area retail outlets report abundance and steady to generally lower prices for fresh fruits and vegetables, and continuing steady prices for groceries, with only a few exceptions noted.

In produce, scarce green onions, most types of beans and cucumbers are slightly higher, reflecting to a degree weather factors. In groceries, frozen orange juice is described as almost a rarity and high priced.

While retail meat departments report steadily high to slightly lower prices for major red meats, particularly for early week, changes could occur based on these activities at live markets:

1. Beef, in its long value-run position, could go lower based on anticipated increased cattle arrivals. The market senses another $2.00 cwt. can come off costs in the next six weeks.

2. Substantially higher hog costs could prompt more buyer resistance in pork lines. A four-year top price of $25 cwt. for hogs was reached late last week (June 19). If this isn't the top of the live market, the peak could be reached this week. Prices then probably would remain at this high for 10 days to two weeks before heading into a gradual downturn with increased arrivals.

This is the second abrupt wholesale upturn in pork in as many weeks following a series of market fluctuations. Sources willing to guess in terms of two weeks hence predict higher costs substantially affect ham as a value consideration for July Fourth outings.

3. Moderate receipts of sheep and lamb resulted in live market quotes up to $26 cwt. with spring lamb retail costs moving accordingly.

4. Poultry and eggs are reported steady but heading into firmer tones, also expected to reflect at retail.

These general conditions prompt the University of Illinois consumer service weekly food markets survey to continue most beef roasts and steaks in the value position, along with fryers, large white grade A eggs, and a fulsome calendar of fresh fruits and vegetables.

Consider, for example: Fruits—Soft fruits improving in volume, headed by peaches, coming in at lower than usual prices against a pattern of anticipated glut supplies this season. Cherries are considered in the same category. Other soft items include most berries (some affected by excessive moisture), apricots, nectarines, plums. Most melons are values, cantaloupes, honeydews and watermelons, although relatively "high" price tags are due mainly to large sizes (increased transportation costs). But this season there's more melon for the money. Apples are actually high priced on more limited supplies.

Vegetables—Cabbage is the headliner, described as very, very cheap, very abundant and of very good quality. Other cheap supplies include romaine and bibb lettuce, spinach, radishes, endive, escarole, turnip tops and dry onions. Under the lower cost but more moderate price level are celery (down substantially), corn, potatoes, lettuce, carrots, parsley, all to moderate), and peppers (report-types of tomatoes (rated real cheap, ed much lower).

Sneak Thieves Take Sum of Money from Footwear Company

No clew has been obtained as to the identity of the sneak thieves who broke into the Chicago Footwear Company store late Sunday night or early Monday morning and escaped with a sum of money.

The marauders gained entrance to the store by prying out a basement window on the north side of the building. An investigation revealed they had ransacked the stock on the shelves. This makes the second time within a few months that the local store has been invaded by petty thieves.

Moose Win Over
McHenry 18 to 6

Winning by a score of 18 to 6, the Antioch Moose team gave the McHenry boys a real defeat Friday night.

The locals are beginning to show real form, according to Manager Otto Klass, who says the team's batting average has climbed 20 points within the last week, the present mark being .290, and the fielding averages .895.

The next game will be played with Round Lake Friday night and the Monday following the Antioch fellows will meet the Waukegan Spats.

Optimism Keynote

Optimism was the keynote of the annual business meeting of the Methodist Church held here Monday night, in charge of A. S. Moore, presiding Elder of the Chicago Northern district. Dinner was served to the members of the official board and their guests at 6:30. Officers and committee members were elected.

Following the election, organization reports were ready by officers of the Ladies' Aid, Epworth League, and Sunday school. The treasurer and benevolent treasurer also appeared on the business session program.

Before the meeting was adjourned, the more than 20 officers and committee members present urged the Presiding Elder to return the Rev. Philip Bohi to the local pastorate next year.

Miss Betty Touton, of Janesville, Wis., will become the bride of Carl Anderson, of Antioch, on Saturday, June 25. Miss Touton was formerly grade school teacher here.

The Channel Lake Country Club Golf Course is gradually coming into its own once more and will soon be running in its usual A1 condition. The members are also gradually arriving for the season, another week will find most of them back in their summer homes.

There will be a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock daylight saving time, and all members are urgently requested to attend this meeting if possible.

It is expected the opening card party of the season will be held next Tuesday, June 23, with luncheon at the usual time.

★ Jim Conway, WBBM-TV's Television Star of "In Town Tonight", meets Mrs. Harper Richards of Chicago, Illinois

"Our kitchen stays so much cleaner..."

and really, nothing looks as modern as an electric range!"

says Mrs. Richards

Modern automatic electric ranges mean less time wasted on kitchen drudgery. Mrs. Richards, partner in Harper Richards Associates, devotes much of the time and energy she saves to Interior Designing.

JIM CONWAY: I imagine a modern kitchen is important to the woman of the house. But do you run into this trend to electric cooking often in your work as an interior designer?

MRS. RICHARDS: Yes I do, Jim. And I have noticed a decided increase in the number of women who want not only an electric range... but an all-electric kitchen. Of course, it seems to me a modern electric range is really the first step toward modern electric living.

JIM CONWAY: Well, what do you consider to be the big advantages of electric cooking?

MRS. RICHARDS: My own experience tells me electric cooking is much cleaner. And cooler, too. Our oven doesn't heat up the kitchen. There are also many automatic features with the modern electric range that give a woman greater versatility as a cook. She can roast, broil, boil, deep-fat fry, grill, bake and barbecue—all automatically.

JIM CONWAY: And very economically. As you probably know, the average-size family can cook electrically for about 7¢ a day.

MRS. RICHARDS: Yes, and the woman of the house will spend a good deal less time in the kitchen in the bargain, Jim.

Every day, more modern women cook the modern electric way

F. A. Swenson and John L. Horan Get A. L. Life Membership

Antioch American Legion Post 748 recently bestowed honors on two of its past commanders for outstanding service to veterans of the Antioch community.

Cmdr. George W. Jensen presented silver plated membership cards with the engraving "Life Membership" to F. A. Swenson and John L. Horan at a recent meeting of the post.

Cmdr. Jensen is serving as many Legionnaires call it a "retired term" as he was commander back in 1926. He is a World War I veteran, serving with the National Guard out of Racine, Wis., entering the Veterinary Corps attending officers training school, and then returning to Antioch for his practice.

Recipients of the life membership cards are likewise World War I veterans. Swenson, past commander of 1944, served in the navy as a carpenter's mate for 10 months at a U. S. Naval Base in France and at the present time is supervisor of the Lake County Veterans Assistance office in Waukegan.

John L. Horan, past commander serving in 1929, was at Camp Gordon, Ga., nine months; was a drill sergeant with the 14th battalion and has continued service in the Legion as post service officer for the past 15 years.

American Legion Post 748 will close its books on membership for 1958 on July 15. The post has at present 146 members and needs 12 more to reach the 100 per cent goal of 158. The annual election of officers will take place July 3.

Antioch Residents Hurt In Accidents on Roads Near Wis. State Line

Antioch residents were injured in two automobile accidents near the State Line over the weekend.

Stephen Galbray, 48, Antioch, was taken to Victory Memorial hospital in Waukegan by the Antioch Rescue squad Monday morning after his car and a truck collided on Rte. 83 just north of the Wisconsin-Illinois State line. His injuries were not listed.

Galbray was driving a car, and Clifford Smith, 35, of rural Trevor, Wis., was driving a panel truck. Smith told Kenosha County deputy sheriffs he was going south on Rte. 83-21 making a left turn into a parking area when Galbray's car suddenly appeared from the south. His wife, Bette Smith, suffered head bruises.

Ronald Gaa of Antioch was hurt in a collision of his car with that of Clifford Noel of 30th St., Kenosha, late Saturday night at Lewis avenue and State Line road. Gaa was going east and Noel south.

Hospitalized were Michael Noel, 3, Ora T. Allen, 28, John H. Thurmond, 31, and Mishald Noel 2, all passengers in the Noel car.

Lake County officers booked Gaa for failing to stop at the arterial highway.

BIBLE TRUTHS PRACTICAL TODAY, SAYS J. L. WOOD

Liberating truths of the Bible are universally available and completely practical today, J. Lingwood of Vancouver, British Columbia, told his audience Tuesday evening at the Methodist church.

"The power and love of God are here to heal, to comfort, to regenerate, and to dispel ignorance with enlightening truth of the true nature of God and of man's inseparable relationship to Him," Mr. Wood declared.

On extensive tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, he spoke under the auspices of the First Church of Christ Scientist. He was introduced by Harold Biehl. Mr. Wood's subject was "Christian Science: The Liberating Light of Truth."

Delay Map Publication

Because the new Antioch Grade School map has not yet been put into type, it cannot be printed this week as reported, but will be printed next week if possible.

Dorothy Thompson devoted a recent column to the heavy dependence of the American economy on war spending. This spending she wrote: "... takes millions of employables off the labor market onto the government payroll, and furnishes an inexhaustible market for the basic industries, since its purchases are perpetually obsolete, sometimes even before they have moved or left the drawing board. An arms race is continual turnover, as each new weapon invented by an enemy must be matched and if possible surpassed."

Check Your Headlights For Night Driving

When your headlights are set too high they send a dangerous blinding glare into the eyes of oncoming drivers. If they are set too low they may not bother other drivers, but they cut down your own visibility range. It is most important to have your headlights checked and adjusted periodically.

The Antioch News and Antioch Theatre invite Mr. William Griffin, Salem, Wis., and one to attend Sunday, Monday or Tuesday's showing of "The Brothers Karamazov" at the Antioch Theatre.
